Form PTO/SB/08A is attached which lists a published application, 20040019256, Serial No. 10/201,738, that was published on January 29, 2004, approximately 3 months after the present application was filed, and in which the applicant of the present invention was a co-inventor, and which was published during the pendency of the present application.
